

COMMUNITY LEGAL EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Women's Legal Service NSW (WLS NSW) helps disadvantaged women access justice by providing a range of specialist free legal services relating to domestic violence, sexual assault, family law, victims support, discrimination, child protection and human rights.

We provide a voice for these women through legal services, law reform and by providing training to inform women about the legal system and their rights.

We provide education for community workers to increase the support for their clients...

Women's Groups | Social Services | Lawyers | Schools & universities
DV crisis & refuge services | Health & medical professionals
Migrant & refugee support providers

...across all metropolitan, regional & rural areas

We deliver workshops, presentations and information sessions, face-to-face where possible or using live online & pre-recorded video.
